Wintertime

By Enza McMahon, 6th grade

You are walking into a room, it is warm. You ask the waiter for hot chocolate. You sit down and look out the window and see snowmen and snow angels fill every square inch. You get your hot chocolate. It's warm and creamy. The violins start to play. You hear Jingle Bells, Good King Wenceslas and Believe. You finish your hot chocolate, and before you leave, you think winter wonders.

The 'Reagan' Interview

By Ellen Bowser, 3rd grade
(I interviewed Reagan Solenburger in 3-W)

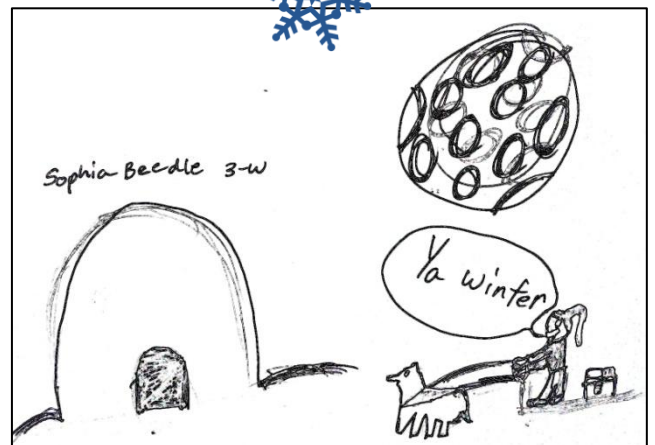

Ellen: What do you want for Christmas?
 Reagan: I want a sewing machine, fabric, and an ITouch.
 Ellen: What do you like best about Christmas?
 Reagan: When you get presents and when Santa comes into your house.
 Ellen: Do you know the true meaning of Christmas?
 Reagan: Yes, when Jesus was born.
 Ellen: Correct!
 Then End.

Penguin

By Georgia Boyd, 2nd grade

Once there was a penguin who wanted to make a snowman but could not. One day she saw a polar bear and the polar bear said, "Don't freak out! I can help." So Polar bear showed her how. "First, make a little snowball. Then start to roll it in the snow. Then do the same thing only smaller, Next make one more but really small." "Okay!" said the penguin, "Got that!" "Last, get a carrot, hat, scarf, and buttons. Put the carrot on the nose, buttons on the mouth and eyes, the hat on top of the head and put the scarf anywhere."

So they put it together.

They lived happily ever after.

The end.
